Dancing from the Inside Out

Grace-Filled Reflections on Growing Older

Westina Matthews

- Relatable essays focused primarily on being at a “certain stage of life”
- A universal message of faith from a renowned speaker and author

This collection of essays about ordinary events invites the reader to reflect on how God can be found throughout life. Matthews offers a personal and authentic voice that resonates with a wide audience—particularly women—in an easily accessible and understandable manner. These timely reflections are in keeping with the Most Rev. Michael B. Curry’s call to “live into being the Jesus Movement by committing to evangelism and the work of reconciliation—beginning with racial reconciliation . . . across the borders and boundaries that divide the human family of God.”

Through thoughtful, poignant, humorous, and authentic reflections—shared from her journal and weekly email blogs—Matthews invites the reader to redefine themselves. This book is a wonderful resource for personal reflection, and a great gift for colleagues, friends, and family members.

WESTINA MATTHEWS is an adjunct professor for the Center for Christian Spirituality at General Theological Seminary where she has taught contemplative spiritual direction for several years. A graduate of the Shalem Institute for Spiritual Formation, Matthews is an author, public speaker, spiritual director and retreat leader whose practice reflects contemplative living through “holy listening.” With a doctorate in education from the University of Chicago, she completed postdoctoral research fellowships at both Northwestern University and the University of Wisconsin at Madison.

Seeing My Skin

A Story of Wrestling with Whiteness

Peter Jarrett-Schell

- A personal journey of a priest’s understanding of his Whiteness widens into an invitation to wrestle with larger cultural issues of race and belonging

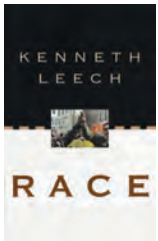

With humor, and a sharp, easily-readable style, Peter Jarrett-Schell delves deeply into how Whiteness has shaped his life. By telling his story, he challenges readers to personally consider the role of race in their own lives.

In recent years, white institutions, congregations, and individuals have all begun to wrestle with their racial legacy. But these reflections often get lost abstracting ideas of “white privilege,” “white fragility,” “structural racism,” and the like, until they become nothing more than jargon. This book challenges its readers to look closely at how these concepts show up in their everyday lives. By examining how Whiteness has distorted his own perceptions, relationships, and sense of self, Jarrett-Schell argues for the personal stakes that white people have in dismantling racism, and offers the creative possibilities that emerge when we begin to do the work.

PETER JARRETT-SCHELL is Pastor of Calvary Episcopal Church in Washington, D.C. A facilitator at the Kaleidoscope Institute, training competent leaders for culturally diverse communities. As the white pastor of a historically Black congregation, the husband of a Black woman, and the father of a bi-racial son, he has wrestled with the question of Whiteness for many years. His first-hand account of a racially-motivated traffic stop was shared more than 30,000 times.

Audience: Seminarians, lay leaders, spiritual directors, anti-racism groups, those interested in inclusivity and social/racial justice

Passionate for Justice

Ida B. Wells as Prophet for Our Time

Catherine Meeks & Nibs Stroupe

- Reflections on current affairs through the lens of history
- A resource for social justice and resilience

Ida B. Wells was a powerful churchwoman and witness for justice and equity from 1878–1931. Born enslaved, her witness flowed through the struggles for justice in her lifetime, especially in the intersections of African Americans, women, and those who were poor. Her life is a profound witness for faith-based work of visionary power, resistance, and resilience for today's world, when the forces of injustice stand in opposition to progress.

These are exciting and dangerous times. Boundaries that previously seemed impenetrable are now being crossed. This book is a guide for the current state of affairs in American culture, enlivened by the historical perspective of Wells' search for justice.

The authors are an African-American woman and a child of white supremacy. Both have dedicated themselves to working, writing, and developing ministries oriented toward justice, equity, and mercy. This book can be used in all settings, but most especially in churches (pastors and other church leaders, study groups), seminaries, and universities.

CATHERINE MEEKS, PhD, is the retired Clara Carter Acree Distinguished Professor of Socio-Cultural Studies at Wesleyan College and the Director of the Absalom Jones Center for Racial Healing. She has long been a strong advocate for social justice, community, and wellness. She is the author of several books, including Living Into God's Dream and Standing on Their Shoulders: A Celebration of the Wisdom of African-American Women.

NIBS STROUPE retired in 2017 as pastor of Oakhurst Presbyterian Church, a nationally recognized leader in multicultural and racial justice ministry. He has written numerous articles for magazines, including The Atlantic online. He has written frequently for Westminster/John Knox's Feasting on the Word series, and is a frequent contributor to Journal for Preachers. He is the author of four books.

Audience: Worship leaders, history buffs, those interested in intersectionality and social justice

God be in my Head

The Sarum Prayer

Ken Wilson

- Uses an ancient prayer in contemporary, accessible ways
- May be used as Lenten or Advent guide

The Sarum Prayer is a remarkably accessible ancient prayer with contemporary appeal—memorable, physical, genderless, and mystical. It is suited for use throughout the day, invoking a God who inhabits all things, including our senses. Like the Serenity Prayer, it appeals to those relying on God to get through their day.

This book offers a step-by-step introduction to the prayer that fosters improved conscious contact with God. With forty short meditations, it draws the reader into the different aspects of the prayer each day and can serve as an easy-access Lenten guide. These short essays are designed to mediate an enhanced experience through daily use.

Though field-tested as a Lenten prayer guide, it is a devotional suitable for any time of year, making connection with God possible even to those not steeped in a religious tradition.

KEN WILSON was a friend and prayer partner of Phyllis Tickle. He is the founding pastor of Vineyard Church of Ann Arbor, having served on the national board of Vineyard USA. He authored A Letter to My Congregation: An Evangelical Pastor's Path to Embracing People who are Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, and Transgender, into the Company of Jesus (David Crumm Media). To better practice full inclusion, he and Emily Swan co-founded Blue Ocean Faith Church. Ken has written in the field of spirituality.

Heart and Soul

The Emotions of Jesus

Edited by Peter M. Wallace

- A passionate and poignant devotional approach to understanding Jesus
- Ideal for personal meditation, group discussion, or as a gift

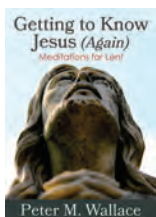

In researching Jesus's emotional life, Episcopal priest and Day1 producer and host Peter Wallace came across a scanned copy of Robert Law's book, The Emotions of Jesus, in the Internet Archive. He found it to be a brilliant jewel of a book that flashes light on the facets of Jesus's emotions and personality, brightening our understanding and appreciation of who Jesus was, how he lived, what it must have been like to be with him, and follow him. Law's century-old text has been carefully revised for a contemporary audience, without diminishing its beauty. Wallace addresses obscure wording and gender bias and provides background information and notes in order to ensure a fresh appreciation by modern readers. The result is a new approach to understanding Jesus, the wholly human one, who embodied a range of emotions as we do, and who serves as a model for living bold, authentic, and fervent lives today as followers of the way of love.

Questions for meditation or discussion are included with each chapter.

PETER M. WALLACE, an Episcopal priest, is executive producer and host of the Day1 radio/podcast and president of the Alliance for Christian Media. The author of ten books, including Getting to Know Jesus (Again): Meditations for Lent (Church Publishing), and editor of Faith and Science in the 21st Century: A Postmodern Primer (Church Publishing), he has contributed to numerous devotional resources. Peter earned a bachelor's in journalism from Marshall University and a Master of Theology degree from Dallas Theological Seminary.

Audience: Clergy, fans of Day1, study groups

Inhabited by Grace

The Way of Incarnate Love

William Daniel

Foreword by Prince G. Singh

- Articulates how language, habits, and practices shape our liturgy, prayer, and worship
- Engages the reader to connect the tables of our homes to the Eucharistic Table

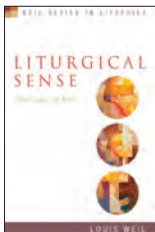

What does it mean to inhabit the life of liturgy? What does it mean to be inhabited by Christ? This book offers a way to rethink what we do when we pray, so that we do not so much call on God for help but join in a conversation. Readers will learn how to think about God through certain habits and practices: how posture effects our perceptions of God and Christ, how feasting on Christ in the Eucharist shapes our understanding of the body—both our individual bodies and the body of the Church. The author also offers tools for forming a deliberate rule of life to ground readers in the transcendent life of liturgy.

Readers will recognize the inseparability of the tables of their homes and the Eucharistic Table, relating daily life with Eucharistic life. Dr. Daniel connects the language of the Book of Common Prayer with the everyday realities of ordinary life, compelling the worshiper to discern how daily practices correspond with or fight against her participation in the Eucharistic economy.

WILLIAM DANIEL serves as rector at Saint Michael's Episcopal Church in Geneseo, New York. He is an adjunct professor of English at SUNY Geneseo, and serves as a coordinator for seminary formation and District Dean in the Diocese of Rochester. He completed his doctorate at the University of Nottingham after earning degrees from Nashotah House Theological Seminary, Duke University Divinity School, and Trevecca Nazarene University. Father Daniel lives with his family in Geneseo.

Audience: Episcopalians, liturgists, seminarians

Signs of Life

Worship for a Just and Loving People

Rick Fabian

- A timely addition to the conversation regarding liturgical revision

Rick Fabian, well known as one of the founding priests of St. Gregory of Nyssa in San Francisco, writes his “treatise in ten parts” on the significant signs of communal life: the welcoming table, authority (human and biblical), baptism, reconciliation, beauty, the spirit, mystery, marriage, children, and the liturgical/lectionary cycle. This “revisionist approach to sacramental theology” offers a glimpse into the depth of thought behind the praxis that has shaped one of the Episcopal Church’s most widely known parishes.

RICK FABIAN, along with Donald Schell, served as one of the founding priests of St. Gregory of Nyssa in San Francisco. Their hope was to create an intentionally experimental congregation that would press the liturgical limits of the Episcopal Church’s new Book of Common Prayer. Music that Makes Community, whose mission is to help people connect and learn through singing, grew out of this liturgical work. He holds degrees from Yale and Cambridge.

Audience: Those interested in liturgical and prayer book revision, those who know and appreciate St. Gregory’s, seminarians

Welcome to a Life of Faith in the Episcopal Church

Megan Castellan

- Perfect for newcomers and confirmation classes

The Episcopal Church has a language and a practice all its own. For a newcomer, these can seem intimidating at first glance. This book takes readers through a Sunday worship experience, and explains the what, the why, and the how of what they might encounter.

Worship is explained, with a quick survey of the Book of Common Prayer, along with frequently encountered vocabulary. How we read the Bible and what we believe about core points of theology are also discussed, especially as these points may differ from what many people assume to be Christian norms. How faith is practiced and its connection to our social and moral lives is discussed. What is the Jesus Movement and how can the Way of Love be lived every day? Finally, a short overview of Episcopal history is included, for the visitor who wonders how we came to be here.

The book concludes with a few of the most frequently asked questions by adults who join the Episcopal Church.

MEGAN CASTELLAN is an ordained Episcopal priest, working extensively across generations within the church. She has marked how the younger generations approach the institution and its ancient traditions with a mix of awe and concern. Part of her ministry, though writing, years as a successful college chaplain, work as a diocesan youth worker, and as a preacher, has been to translate the ancient language of the Church into language that is approachable and inviting for the seekers of today.

Audience: Newcomers to the church, confirmation classes, older teens, adults

Traveling Home

Tracking Your Way through the Spiritual Wilderness

Mark R. Kowalewski

- Offers readers a way to find their place in God's story
- A creative invitation to those who are on the margins of the church

Recent research in the sociology of religion indicates that around one in five Americans are religiously "liminal," that is, they are on the fence about affiliating with a faith or a congregation. Traveling Home is an invitation to those people who are standing on the edges or just coming into the Church. It makes a case for why Christianity can make a difference by taking the reader on a spiritual journey through the story and ancient wisdom of the Bible. It shows the reader how to find a place within this great cosmic adventure.

Why Christianity at all? How do we understand where we fit into a bigger picture? Anyone asking these questions, including people exploring other liturgical traditions, will find this book of interest. It is also a tool for clergy teaching newcomer/inquirer classes.

MARK R. KOWALEWSKI has been Dean and Rector at St. John's Cathedral since 2006. One of his passions is primary Christian formation. He holds a doctorate focusing on Christian Ethics and the Sociology of Religion from the University of Southern California. He has served as both priest and professor and written widely on both Christian Ethics and the sociology of religion.

Audience: Congregations with newcomer/seeker programs, people exploring Christianity, clergy, seminarians

No Avatars Allowed

Theological Reflections on Video Games

Joshua Wise

- Reaches across generations to explore divinity, humanity, and technology through the lens of video games
- Challenges readers to look theologically at how they play

Since the advent of video games in the 1960s, they have become the common experience of everyone from Gen-X to the Millennial and post-Millennial generations. While many of today's clergy, parishioners, and theologians grew up gaming, the church's stance regarding video games is one of, at best, bemusement.

This book takes seriously the idea that video games can challenge us to think more deeply about our reality, divinity, faith, and each other. It draws readers into a small, but growing, conversation about models of incarnation and what it means to distinguish between the virtual and the real. This book will introduce readers to concepts and questions from the perspective of a Christian systematic theologian who has been playing games since he was four years old, and who has been writing, speaking, and podcasting about this topic since 2010. It is an invitation into a relatively new conversation about divinity, humanity, and technology.

JOSHUA WISE is an adjunct professor of Systematic Theology at Villanova University, Saint Joseph's University, and Rosemont College. He earned his doctorate in systematic theology from The Catholic University of America. The author of Deephome and editor of Past the Sky's Rim: The Elder Scrolls and Theology, he co-hosts the podcast No Avatars Allowed. Dr. Wise lives in Drexel Hill, Pennsylvania, where he is the Theologian in Residence for Incarnation Holy Sacrament Church.

Living in an Icon

A Program for Growing Closer to Creation and to God

Robert Gottfried and Frederick W. Krueger

- Helps bridge the gap between love of God and love of nature
- A separate Facilitator's Guide accompanies the book for small group usage

Many people experience God most strongly in nature but do not know how to incorporate this experience into their spiritual life. Others question whether Christianity has room for nature at all and seek alternatives elsewhere, often leaving Christianity entirely. This book addresses this crucial issue by providing a resource for fostering a closer relationship with God and creation.

With a step-by-step approach, this book provides a framework integrating asceticism with the contemplation of nature. Each chapter contains a "take it home" section for applying the lessons learned outdoors to everyday life, connecting God and nature as seamless components of spirituality. Topics include gratitude, delight, appreciation, wonder, discernment, reverence, mortality, love, beauty, humility, silence, and hope.

ROBERT GOTTFRIED directs the Center for Religion and Environment at the University of the South in Sewanee, Tennessee, and coordinates its "Contemplation and Care for Creation" program, which combines theology, ecology and social science. Faithful Celebrations

Making Time for God with the Saints

Edited by Sharon Ely Pearson

- Experiential activities for celebrating the saints
- For use in churches, schools, camps, and home settings

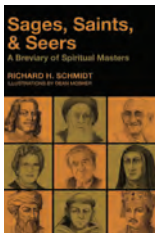

Many of our experiences in life happen when several generations are together—at church, at home, in our communities. Often we only celebrate the saints on All Saints Sunday or when a particular saint is commemorated in a secular way. This volume in the Faithful Celebration series focuses on some well-known and some not-so-well-known saints, many who are not all officially “sainted” but certainly having lived a life of faith under difficult circumstances.

Each event recalling a particular saint includes key ideas, a cluster of activities to experience the key ideas, materials needed, full instructions for implementation, background history and information, music, art, recipes, and prayer resources to use in a small, intimate, or large multi-generational group. For children, youth, adults, or any combination of ages any of these activities can take place in any setting.

SHARON ELY PEARSON is a Christian educator, editor, and author with thirty-five years of experience in Christian formation. Among her books are The Prayer Book Guide to Christian Education, 3rd edition; Call on Me: A Prayer Book for Young People; The Episcopal Christian Educator's Handbook; and Signed, Sealed, Delivered: Theologies of Confirmation for the 21st Century. Kaleidoscope

Broadening the Palette in the Art of Spiritual Direction

Edited by Ineda P. Adesanya

- A comprehensive resource for understanding the various components of spiritual direction
- The first such resource written entirely by spiritual directors of color

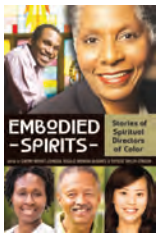

Early mystics of the Near East and northern Africa created the monastic traditions and were the first psychologists, exploring various practices to test the human capacity. In medieval times, spiritual direction was common in the Roman Catholic monastic traditions. It extended significantly into Protestant Christianity in the late twentieth century by predominantly white and affluent organizations. Spiritual direction has progressively become a global, multi-religious, and interfaith practice.

This book is a comprehensive and concise text from a spiritual director of color, offering inclusive resources and tools to spiritual directors of many faiths and for people of diverse cultures and traditions. Core skills such as deep listening, hospitality, and discernment are presented with cutting-edge lessons on internal liberation, systemic trauma, and imaginative discovery. Spiritual direction is taught by more than 100 educational institutions and spirituality centers in the United States alone, but typical curriculum generally does not reflect current cultural reality and growing diversity. This is a textbook for anyone who studies spiritual direction as both preparation for and deepening of their calling.

INEDA P. ADESANYA is an American Baptist minister and spiritual director. Ineda holds masters degrees from San Francisco Theological Seminary and Graduate Theological Union in Berkeley. She provides spiritual direction, retreats, an annual Spirituality and Hermeneutics Forum, and a weekly blog. She teaches at the Interfaith Chaplaincy Institute, and is a pastoral counselor and spiritual director for the Pacific Lutheran Theological Seminary, SFTS, and in private practice.

Audience: Spiritual directors, pastors, counselors, seminarians

Winged with Longing for Better Things

Sylvia Sweeney

- A Lenten devotional written from an eco-feminist perspective
- Deeply affirming of women and of our created world

Rather than classical penitence, this book emphasizes intercession, solidarity, and preparation. Its aim is to help readers learn to view the world incarnationally and sacramentally. In rejecting one's own embodiment and the natural world, the earth is being irreparably harmed by our destructive actions. The book invites readers to move beyond sympathy for those in strife into action and advocacy on the behalf of the earth and its less powerful inhabitants.

Photographs and poetry enhance the daily devotional readings.

SYLVIA SWEENEY is Dean and President of Bloy House, the Episcopal Theological School at Claremont. With a doctorate in Liturgical Studies from Graduate Theological Union, she has worked with progressive Christians seeking to expand their own vision for spiritual formation. As a professor of Liturgical Studies and of Homiletics, she helps church leaders and those preparing for ordained ministry bridge the divide between academia, the pew, and our busy city streets.

Audience: Those seeking a new perspective on Lent, feminists, environmental advocates, worship leaders, study groups

Broken We Kneel

Reflections on Faith and Citizenship, Second Edition

Diana Butler Bass

Foreword by Robert W. Lee IV

- More timely than ever in the current political climate
- New introduction, foreword, and concluding chapter

America's unique and often fractious relationship between church and state is, if anything, more relevant to who we are as a nation than when Diana Butler Bass' examination of it in Broken We Kneel was first published sixteen years ago. This second edition contains a new foreword and introduction, as well as a new conclusion outlining her vision for the future. Born in the tumultuous aftermath of 9/11 and now a spiritual classic, the book draws on both her personal experience and her knowledge of religious history. Bass looks at Christian identity, patriotism, citizenship, and congregational life in an attempt to answer the central question that so many are struggling with today: "To whom do Christians owe deepest allegiance? God or country?" In writing both impassioned and historically informed, Bass reflects on current events, personal experiences, and political questions that have sharpened the tensions between serious faith and national imperatives. The book incorporates the author's own experience of faith, as writer, teacher, wife, mother, and churchgoer into a larger conversation about Christian practice and contemporary political issues.

Broken We Kneel is a call to remember that the core of Christian identity is not always compatible with national political policies.

DIANA BUTLER BASS is a popular speaker, retreat leader, and scholar of American religion who lives outside of Washington, D.C. She holds a doctoral degree in religious studies from Duke University and is an award-winning author of several best-selling books, including most recently, Grateful: The Transformative Power of Giving Thanks. She has taught at colleges, universities, and the Virginia Theological Seminary.

Audience: Diana Butler Bass followers, all those distressed by the current political climate

Receiving Jesus

The Way of Love

Mariann Edgar Budde

Foreword by Michael B. Curry

- Practical and inspiring ways to practice a Jesus-centered life
- Foreword by Michael B. Curry, Presiding Bishop of The Episcopal Church

So often we think of the Christian faith as an obligation or as a set of beliefs that we must hold. With this outlook, we can lose sight of what is most important: the invitation to experience a loving, personal relationship with God. It's a relationship we can trust, where we can find refuge and solid ground upon which to stand.

The Way of Love set forth by the Episcopal Church's Presiding Bishop Michael Bruce Curry is the journey of a lifetime. It's a way of knowing God, receiving and sharing Jesus' love, and being a blessing to the world. Mariann Edgar Budde shares her thoughts on how the reader can come to know—to receive—Jesus more deeply in practicing the Way of Love. Through the seven practices that have been put before us: to turn, to learn, to pray and to worship, to bless, to go, and to rest, she will share biblical stories, wisdom from the Christian tradition, and her own personal stories of spiritual growth.

MARIANN EDGAR BUDDE is the ninth bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Washington and serves as president of the Protestant Episcopal Cathedral Foundation. Prior to this, she served as rector of St. John's Episcopal Church in Minneapolis. She earned her masters in divinity and doctor of ministry degrees from Virginia Theological Seminary. The author of Gathering the Fragments: Preaching as Spiritual Practice, her sermons have been published in books and journals. She and her husband, Paul, have two adult sons.

Audience: Clergy, congregations, dioceses, individuals interested in spiritual practices, those who desire to follow the Way of Love

Living the Way of Love

A 40-Day Devotional

Mary Bea Sullivan

Foreword by Courtney V. Cowart and Stephanie Spellers

- Reflections follow the practices of the Way of Love—Turn, Learn, Pray, Worship, Bless, Go, Rest
- Each devotion includes a passage of scripture, a story, and reflection questions
- Perfect during Lent or any time of year

Living the Way of Love offers forty brief reflections about the seven Jesus-centered practices identified by Presiding Bishop Michael Curry in “The Way of Love” initiative.

Sullivan tells stories from her own and others’ experiences as a starting point for discussion about how to seek and find a deeper connection to God. Rotating through each practice so that each is covered once a week, going deeper into the practice throughout the forty days, each reflection ends with questions designed to spur further discussion and assist readers in making the practices their own. Perfect for using as a Lenten devotional or at any time of the year, the book includes a guide for creating a personal rule of life, and a downloadable Facilitator’s Guide.

MARY BEA SULLIVAN is a graduate of Virginia Theological Seminary and Associate Rector at Saint Luke’s Episcopal Church in Birmingham, Alabama. She is a trained Spiritual Director and author.

Audience: Individuals, clergy, seekers, those who use lenten devotional materials or devotionals for any time of year

Unmasking Latinx Ministry for Episcopalians

An Anglican Approach

Carla E. Roland Guzmán

- A look through a Latinx lens at how the Episcopal/Anglican church can minister to and with the Latinx community

Unmasking Latinx Ministry is a unique look at the history of the Episcopal Church in the last fifty years, including a bold and insightful analysis of the institutionalization of Latinx ministries. This history is contextualized within the struggles of the Episcopal Church in terms of race, gender, and sexuality. Through a Latinx lens, the author brings fresh eyes to the challenges faced by the Episcopal Church's ministry with and among Latinx persons and communities. Along with the historical analysis and insight, the author brings a background and formation in Episcopal churches in Puerto Rico, Texas, California, and Central New York, as well as more than fifteen years of experience in a multicultural and multiracial, monolingual, and bilingual congregations in New York City. Combining this history and ministry experience, the author explores specific areas where Episcopal/Anglican traditions speak to Latinx ministries and what Latinx persons and communities offer the Episcopal Church today.

CARLA E. ROLAND GUZMÁN, PhD, is Rector of the Episcopal Church of Saint Matthew and Saint Timothy, NYC. She is the Coordinator of Faith, Family, Equality: The Latinx Roundtable, a program of the Center for LGBTQ and Gender Studies in Religion, and Affiliate Faculty in Church History at The General Theological Seminary. Rev. Roland is committed to the full inclusion of Latinx persons and LGBTQ persons in all aspects of the church and society.

Buying God

Consumerism and Theology

Eve Poole

- Deeply theological review of our habits of relationship with money

Eve Poole offers us a book at once deeply theological and imminently practical. She invites us into a conversation about theology—the ways in which we attempt to understand God—and their various implications. She then shifts the conversation to consumerism, raising questions along the way as to how God might view the practice—and how we might better understand our place as Christians within that system.

Drawing on the Church’s rich traditions of Social Liturgy, Buying God calls on the Christian community to renew its confidence and strength in proclaiming this good news. Uniting theoretical work on theology, capitalism, and consumerism with a scheme of detailed practical action, the book explores how we can wear ourselves off the material and on to the eternal, through prayer, example, and vibrant social action.

“Knowledgeable and accessible, as adept at exploring economics as at delineating theological method, Buying God offers a steady hand through the demands of global capitalism and the seductions of human desire. Eve Poole offers an example of how theology is always politics, and always devotional—and, at its best, both at the same time.” Samuel Wells, Vicar of St Martin-in-the-Fields.

EVE POOLE is a British writer. She is the Third Church Estates Commissioner, and Chairman of the Board of Governors at Gordonstoun. She has a BA from Durham, an MBA from Edinburgh, and a PhD in Theology and Capitalism from Cambridge.

Transforming Vestries

At once “travel guide” and vision for the future, the Transformation Series is good news for the Episcopal Church at a time of fast and furious demographic and social change. Series contributors—recognized experts in their fields—analyze our present plight, point to the seeds of change already at work transforming the church, and outline a positive new way forward.

Each volume of the series will:

- Explain why a changed vision is essential
- Give robust theological and biblical foundations
- Offer a guide to best practices and positive trends in churches large and small
- Describe the necessary tools for change
- Imagine how transformation will look

Drawing on the resources of five other volumes in the series, Transforming Vestries creates a single source designed specifically for this governing body. The chapters will highlight the nature—and the needs—of vestry membership: stewardship, leadership, evangelism, discipleship, and vital congregational life.

Episcopal Church Annual 2019

General Convention Issue

Still the Leading Source of Information on The Episcopal Church

With origins dating back to 1830, The Episcopal Church Annual—aka “The Red Book”—is an indispensable reference tool trusted year-after-year by churches, diocesan offices, libraries, and many others.

You will find the following between the covers of the 2019 edition of “The Red Book” and more:

- A comprehensive directory of provinces, dioceses, and churches, including contact information and listings of active clergy
- The canonical structure and organization of the Episcopal Church, including complete directories for the office of the General Convention, the House of Bishops, the House of Deputies, standing committees and commissions, and more
- Listings and contact information for seminaries; Episcopal schools; centers for camps, conferences, and retreats; Episcopal Church Women; and more
- Up-to-date church-wide statistical data and chronological tables
- A classified buyer’s guide of vendors and organizations offering valued services to the church
