

KEY

Biological sex

refers to the physical anatomy of an individual's body.

Terms

Gender identity

is built upon
what an individual
senses internally.

Gender expression

refers to the way a person interprets their gender with outward displays of that gender stereotype.

Attraction

refers to when someone is physically drawn
to another person
or sees someone as desirable.

Key Terms

Biological sex

refers to the physical anatomy of an individual's body.

Gender identity

is built upon what an individual senses internally.

Gender expression

refers to the way a person interprets their gender with outward displays of that gender stereotype.

Attraction

refers to when someone is physically drawn to another person or sees someone as desirable.